

Surg. Cdr M.E. Wilson RD RNR

24th April 1937 Born in Carlisle

Education: Ermysted's Grammar School, Skipton.

University of Leeds, MB,ChB.

Career:

House Physician (Medicine) and House Surgeon (Neurosurgery), Leeds.

University of Edinburgh, Assistant Lecturer in Physiology:

University College London, Lecturer in Physiology and Anatomy.

Ph.D. 'Function and Structure in Visual System' University of Edinburgh.

University of Washington, Seattle. Dept. of Ophthalmology, Assistant Professor

FRCA. Later becoming an examiner.

Narkosläkare, Serafimer Hospital, Stockholm.

Bristol Royal Infirmary Consultant and Senior Lecturer in Anaesthetics.

University of Washington, Seattle. Dept. of Anesthesiology, Assistant Professor

Bath, Consultant Anaesthetist.

President, Society of Anaesthetists SW Region.

Research: Visual Neuroanatomy with his wife, Margaret, as his histologist.

Anaesthesia: Many and varied including: problems associated with intubation; Errors how to detect and deal with them; Medical statistics.

Full Amateur Radio Licence M0CFU

Boat Master. Kennet & Avon Canal cruises.

After retirement discovered that a role reversal had occurred and he was now research assistant to Margaret, his wife, who was exploring the east coast of N. America, to write a book on The Early English Voyages to New England.

This led to setting up exhibitions, editing and publishing books.

Royal Naval Reserve, HMS Flying Fox, Severn Division.

HMS Flying Fox (The original drill ship, had been a Fleet Sweeping Vessel.).

In the early days our main function was mine sweeping as part of MCM 10.

The division moved onshore in 1972.

Entered 1970: Surgeon Lieutenant. HMS Victory, Royal Naval Barracks, Portsmouth.

1972 Promoted Surgeon Lieutenant Commander.

1983 Promoted Surgeon Commander. PMO Severn Division RNR.

1987 Awarded RD.

Training Periods of usually two weeks and often repeat visits.

Several weekends with the Division's HMS Venturer a Ton Class Mine Sweeper, then for a while a commercial trawler (Suffolk Harvester)

HMS Abdiel (Minelayer), HMS Fearless, HMS Invincible.

Senior Reserve Officers' War Course, Greenwich.

NBC Warfare Course, Chemical Defence Establishment Porton Down.

Institute of Naval Medicine. Underwater Medicine Course.

HMS Dolphin Submarine Escape.

HMS Neptune, Clyde Submarine Base, Faslane

CTCRM.

Commando Logistics Regiment, Norway,

RN Air Stations – Portland, Culdrose, Yeovilton.

RAF Fairford Air Show, PMO Surgical Team

RAF Aeromedical Evacuation Squadron, Falklands (just for one night!).

Queen's Gurkha Engineers. New Territories, Hong Kong.

RN Hospitals. Plymouth, Gibraltar.

RAF Akrotiri, Cyprus.

Army Medical Centre, Belize (anaesthetized a parrot).

Stephen, son by previous marriage.

Consultant anaesthetist specialising in Trauma. Surg. Cdr RNR, later becoming regular RAF Wing Cdr.

Several tours to 'hotspots' including twice to Afghanistan.

RAF Fairford Air Show
PMO Surgical Team

Summit of Gros Morne, Newfoundland.

President of SW
Society of Anaesthetists